

HELEN RUSH – BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CO-ORDINATOR

I am the Business Development Co-ordinator and have been with Polaris Learning since August 2010. My work is very varied and involves a mix of working with existing clients, looking for new clients and making sure potential clients know who we are and what we can do to help them.

I have worked in sales & marketing for seventeen years working for companies in financial services, coaching & mentoring, and health as well as teaching at management, sales & marketing, and customer service to college and university students.

Outside of work my children, nieces and nephews keep me very busy. When there is spare time I will read almost anything available.
